BOXER'S BRITISH RECORD GOLD

Historic win: Nicola Adams took top spot at the European Championships

Nicola Adams is the first female British fighter to win a major title with European gold medal

By Dominique Stafford

NICOLA ADAMS made history over the weekend when she won European gold to become the first female British boxer to claim a major title in the sport.

The 28-year-old – who is a member of Haringey Amateur Boxing Club, based in Tottenham High Road, and is part of Great Britain's Olympic squad – beat France's Sarah Ourahmoune 15-8 in Saturday's final of the flyweight division in the European Championships in the Dutch city of Rotterdam.

"I've wanted to be champion for so long and now I've got my gold medal," she said. "I'm absolutely overwhelmed. What I've achieved is still sinking in."

"I said before the tournament that I was hoping to get gold. I was determined and would not be denied, and I'm bringing this gold back with me to England."

Adams has made her mark at an international level several times before, becoming the first English woman to win a medal at a major tournament when she claimed European silver in 2007 and winning two world silvers since then – and it looked like she might again have to settle for second place when she fell behind in the early stages of her fight against Ourahmoune.

But the more aggressive Englishwoman took charge of the fight in the third of the four rounds and extended her lead in the closing stages to run out a comfortable winner and hand a huge boost to her hopes of qualifying for the London Olympics.

"I was down after the first round, but I was so determined," Adams added. "It's important to me that I've earned valuable ranking points for next year's World Championships, as it's the qualifying tournament for the Olympic Games. This is one of the big highlights of my boxing career so far, and Olympic gold is my real focus now."

Private contractor to take over cemeteries

HARINGEY has become the first London borough to privatise its cemeteries and crematoria.

The council's cabinet has agreed to transfer the management of the services to Dignity plc at the beginning of 2012 in a deal that will last 50 years.

There are two cemeteries - at Wood Green and Tottenham - and the council also runs a crematorium in Enfield. Existing council employees will transfer to the company, but the authority will retain ownership of the sites.

Although the council says the services currently make money, millions of pounds of investment are needed in the next five years to modernise standards and comply with legislation.

The move has been described as a "win-win deal for Haringey residents" by Councillor Nilgun Canver.

The cabinet member for environment said: "The new arrangements are good news for the borough. Our facilities will get the capital investment needed to bring them up-to-date, but without drawing resources away from other frontline council services.

"On top of this, the borough is guaranteed an annual income, linked to inflation, for up to 50 years.

"Residents will experience no change to the service and we have worked to ensure guarantees are in place to care for historic sites and protect biodiversity."

Dignity plc, which is one of the largest

Grave business: Management of Wood Green Cemetery will go private independent providers of bereavement and funeral services operating in the UK, has already outlined its plans for the sites.

Its general manager for crematoria Steve Gant said: "We feel privileged to be working in partnership with Haringey Council.

"We will continue to provide the community with the highest possible standards of service and facilities so that they have a place of beauty and tranquility to remember their loved ones.

"We plan to invest £2million in the crematorium at Enfield by refurbishing both chapels and all public areas including the memorial office as well as improving access and car parking."

Café recycling supermarket food celebrates first birthday

AN INNOVATIVE cafe that uses unwanted supermarket goods has celebrated its first birthday.

FoodCycle Cafe, located in the MIND Centre in Station House, Stapleton Hall Road, Stroud Green, has now been serving customers for a year.

It aims to recycle unwanted produce from large and small supermarkets, providing good value healthy food where it is needed most.

Liberal Democrats on the Crouch End Area Committee have recently secured an extra £3,500 for the charity MIND, to help recruit, manage and train volunteers for the cafe and MIND Centre.

MP Lynne Featherstone and Councillor Richard Wilson helped the charity mark its birthday.

Mrs Featherstone said: "FoodCycle is working hard to turn waste into nutrition for people who need it most. That is admirable and worth celebrating in itself."

Windows, doors, conservatories

Not all double glazing companies are the same,

Some window companies are overly aggressive and employ a hard-sell approach with customers who enquire about windows, doors and conservatories. This often means that customers can be left with overpriced products which are not suited to their needs. Here at Presswarm we believe in good manners. We simply advise customers on the various options that are available and by working together we can arrive at the ideal solution. No false promises, no hidden problems-just a service where honesty and integrity come as standard.

Brave police dog Obi is rewarded

Back on the beat: Obi, with PC Phil Wells

A POLICE dog that suffered a fractured skull during the August riots has received a special animal bravery award.

Three-year-old German shepherd Obi was given the accolade by the International Fund For Animal Welfare at the House Of Lords last week.

Obi was on frontline duties alongside handler PC Phil Wells in Tottenham when they came under heavy bombardment from rioters throwing petrol bombs, bottles, bricks and street furniture.

The dog was hit above his left eye and although passed fit to continue working, blood was later spotted trickling from his nostril and he was taken for treatment. A CT scan at Queen's Veterinary Hospital, in Cambridge, revealed a fracture to his skull above the left eye socket.

After resting up and then taking on some light work, Obi returned to full duties last week.

Robbie Marsland, UK director of IFAW, said: "We are delighted to be able to highlight the amazing service given by police dogs such as Obi. We were relieved to hear he has made a good recovery and he is a truly rewarding winner of our special Animal Bravery Award."

PC Wells said it was "humbling" to hear about the award. The 30-year-old added: "It's really nice to have the work recognised and while Obi received a lot of attention, we are just one of many dog teams who go out on the streets every day. Obi has been keen to get back to work. He didn't like being left at home when I set off on my own as he loves it."

Obi has lived with PC Wells, his wife Laura and two children in Surrey since he was a puppy and will stay with them as a pet when his working life comes to an end.

All eight police dogs working in his unit on the same night in Tottenham High Road suffered injuries, from cut paw pads from broken glass and debris, to cuts to the body and broken teeth.

Thanks: Nicky Price, Moaz Nanjuwany, from Tottenham Traders' Partnership, Gary Mabbutt, Chris Lane, from Haringey Council and Rob Davies, from the fire brigade

Spurs play host to special guests

SOME of those affected by the riots in August were at White Hart Lane last week to watch Spurs play in the UEFA Europa League.

Business bosses, Haringey Council workers and staff from the emergency services were invited to the game on Thursday as part of the club's Tickets For Tottenham initiative and saw Spurs beat Russian side Rubin Kazan 1-0.

Gary Mabbutt, former Spurs player and captain and current club ambassador, visited businesses before the kick-off and the club appealed to fans to arrive early for the game and spend time in Tottenham High Road, bringing much-needed activity to the area.

Mr Mabbutt said: "It was great to see so many of our local traders with us at the game, alongside council workers and emergency services staff."

"The club is committed to supporting fellow businesses in the area and the Tickets For Tottenham initiative is just one example of the work we are doing."

"We will continue to encourage our fans to arrive early for home games to eat, drink and shop along the high road, while the club's players continue to play an active role in the community through supporting the work of the Tottenham Hotspur Foundation."

Speaking on behalf of the businesses, Moaz Nanjuwany, chairman of the Tottenham Traders' Partnership, thanked the club and the fans for their support.

Rob Davies, Tottenham fire station manager, who was among those who were at the game, said: "It is comforting to know the brigade's efforts continue to be recognised and that the community spirit in Tottenham remains strong."

Crash fraud gang in £1.9m swindle

A SOUTH Tottenham man has been handed a suspended prison sentence for his role in a crash for cash gang that made almost £2million from false claims.

Nazruislam Rahman, 32, of Turner Avenue, will have to carry out 140 hours of unpaid work after pleading guilty to conspiracy to defraud at Southwark Crown Court.

Rahman and five cohorts submitted more than 120 fraudulent claims to insurers for accidents that never happened, making £1.17million for themselves, with insurance companies paying out a total of £1.91million.

The gang staged crashes at their business premises before claiming for services that were not provided. The claims were for recovery and storage as well as replacement hire vehicles.

Motor Alliance, a Tottenham-based company, set up to handle the fraudulent claims, combined accident claim management with other services including storage facilities and hire of replacement vehicles while claims were being settled.

Police began to unravel the gang's activities after a tip-off from an insurance company, which had noticed a pattern of irregularities in submitted claims. The Motor Alliance premises were raided in October 2008 and 64 files relating to claims were found in the boot of a Mercedes car.

Samsul Haque, 26, from Maida Vale, the mastermind behind Motor Alliance, was jailed for five years and disqualified for ten years as a company director. Rosul Yusuf, 33, a car salesman, from Ilford, was sent to prison for four years and disqualified for five years as a company director. Shalim Miah, 29, a company director, from Pimlico, was jailed for two years and disqualified for five years as a company director.

Suspended sentence: Nazruislam Rahman

Car hire manager Halimur Rashid, 28, from Ilford, was sentenced to 15 months' imprisonment and Noveed Akhttar, 40, a surveyor, from Leyton, was given a year's suspended sentence.

Sergeant Gary McIver and PC Robert Eastwick received a judge's commendation for their work on the case, for which more than 500 witness statements were taken and which saw 10,000 pages of documentary evidence.

Wanted by police: Tanzib Ahmed Auvie

DETECTIVES are appealing for information to help trace a man they want to speak to about an incident in White Hart Lane in April.

Tanzib Ahmed Auvie is believed to have been living in the Haringey area at the time, but also has links to east and north London, as well as Leicester.

The 22-year-old is about 5ft 7inch tall and of slim build.

Officers have made extensive enquiries to locate him and have now released a picture of him to the public in the hope that they will provide information as to his whereabouts.

Anyone with information is asked to call Detective Constable Steve Bent of Haringey CID on 020 8345 0806 or Crimestoppers anonymously on 0800 555 111.

£16,000 grant for kids' sports club

A SPORTS club which offers holiday sessions to children in Tottenham has been given a two-year grant worth £16,000.

Haringey Police And Community Amateur Boxing Club has received the money from Sported, which will allow it to continue its popular scheme.

Treasurer Kenny Marsh OBE said the grant had helped lift a cloud from over the club. "The funding had a huge impact on what we were able to deliver over the summer period," he said. "I can safely say without it we would have been struggling."

"After the recent events in Tottenham and surrounding boroughs, our work is going to become even more paramount in engaging with the more vulnerable youth in our society. A big thanks to Sported who believed in us."

Lekan Ojumu, who is the regional manager in London for Sported, feels the club is exactly the kind of project his charity has been set up to help.

"The boxing club is an important part of the community in terms of offering guidance, discipline and support to boys and young men through the boxing training and activities they offer," he said.

HARRY: RAFA'S A CLASS FINISHER

By Dominique Stafford

RAFAEL VAN DER VAART has been backed to continue his fine form in front of goal after he fired Tottenham Hotspur to a 2-1 Premier League victory over Blackburn Rovers at Ewood Park on Sunday.

The Dutchman had opened the scoring in Spurs' previous three league matches, and he repeated the feat with a clinical finish after a surging run from Kyle Walker in the 14th minute.

And, after Mauro Formica equalised, van der Vaart made it five goals in four games by scoring a fine winner from outside the box to earn the praise of manager Harry Redknapp.

"Rafa's a class finisher, a clinical goalscorer," the boss said. "He did the same last season – scored goals for us week in and week out.

"I've said this season that's he's capable of scoring 20 goals and being right up there with the top goalscorers. He's a fantastic finisher."

However, van der Vaart was quick to play down his exploits and instead praised the way in which Tottenham's patched-up defence – missing the injured Ledley King, William Gallas and Michael Dawson – coped with the aerial bombardment from the hosts.

He said: "When you score you're always in the headlines, but I think the defenders were amazing. This season they've been unbelievable for us.

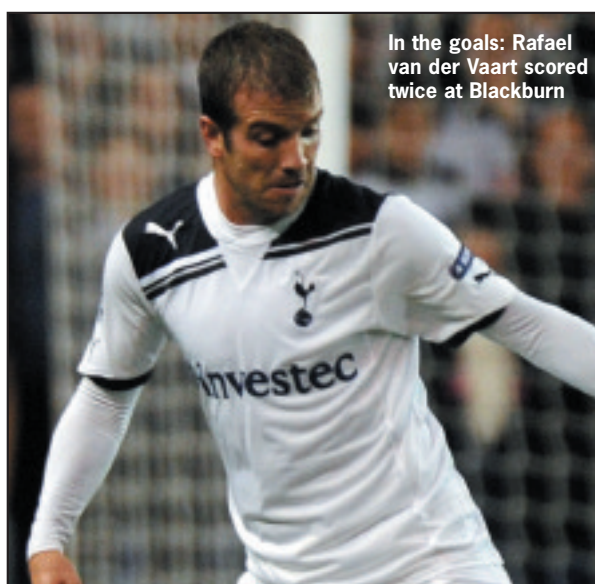

"It was my second time at Ewood Park. They play with throw-ins, corner kicks and long balls and it's a really difficult place to win. It's a massive compliment to the boys that we did. It was a hard game, but it says a lot that we won and fought until the end.

"We want to finish in the top four. There's a long way to go, but we're full of confidence."

His views were echoed by goalkeeper Brad Friedel, who was delighted by the protection he was given by his rearguard.

The keeper said: "Everyone knows about all the injuries we have at the back and the boys played really well.

"When you come to places like Ewood Park you get everything thrown at you as a centre half. Younes [Kaboul] and Seb [Bassong] were excellent."

In the goals: Rafael van der Vaart scored twice at Blackburn

Borough win in FA Vase as their fine run goes on

A COMFORTABLE 2-0 win at home to Hadley in the first round of the FA Vase on Saturday saw Haringey Borough extend their unbeaten streak to nine matches.

It was a two-goal burst in as many minutes shortly before the interval which proved decisive in what was initially an evenly contested encounter.

Borough broke the deadlock on 43 minutes when Richard Worrell netted with an unstoppable volley from the right-hand corner of the penalty area.

And the hosts doubled their advantage from their very next attack, Roland Namquita racing on to a through-ball and steadying himself on the edge of the area before clinically slotting beyond keeper Russell Garland into the corner of the net.

Unsurprisingly, Hadley stepped up the pressure in the second half as they attempted to get back into the match – with Borough's Nick Christofi the busier keeper for the rest of the contest.

Demetri Stratis was forced to make a goalline clearance after Christofi failed to deal with a corner, while the keeper made one flying save from a long-range pile-driver, but the visitors struggled to create clear-cut chances.

Namquita twice narrowly shot wide as he came close to extending Borough's advantage on the break, but the misses did not prove costly as the hosts held on.

Haringey Borough host AFC Dunstable in the Spartan Premier Division on Saturday (3pm).
